ELEMENTS

Founded in 1885, Rollins College has established itself as not only one of the most academic but also as one of the most asthetic campuses in the country. Spanish tile...stucco...brick...terra cotta....these are the elements that blend together to form one beautiful whole that we know as Rollins College. Pictured here, is the Olin Library at night from across Lake Virginia.

ELEMENTS

Earth, wind, fire, and water are the elements that make up the planet earth. At Rollins, the elements that make life on campus so vibrant consists of many things. Faces and places are just two things on the large palette that construct the image of the Rollins we know now, and the Rollins we knew then. With students from almost every state in the Union and many foreign countries, a respectable teaching staff, and one, if not the most, beautiful campuses in the entire country, Rollins has been in the hearts and minds of many of its students, past and present. Whether you are a Greek or an independent, a member of a sports team or someone who prefers academics, everyone fits in perfectly. When one first steps foot on Rollins, they are not just entering an experience, they are becoming part of it.

Events ELEMENTS

Events are an important part of life here at Rollins College. They generate the spirit of the entire Rollins community. From Convocation, to the filming of the Seaquest episode, and to many numerous other happenings, such as Fox Day and several theater productions, the students are always there to make the Rollins campus come to life. No matter what the event is, whether it's a sports event or a celebrity visit, students make Rollins stick out. Does anyone remember the numerous visits of Fred Rogers or the Winter Park Art Festival? These were a few of the events that brought vibrance to our beautiful campus.

Leisure ELEMENTS

The term college usually brings about thoughts of higher education, learning and parties. However, there is more to college life than just studying and partying. One also enjoys the down time to indugle in their own personal leisure. Leisure at Rollins College can be found in a varietry of ways both on and off-campus, everything from shopping on Park Avenue, rollerblading, catching some rays at the pool, or just reading a good book on Mills Lawn. Spending your time with friends at concerts, at the beach, or at Disney World are some all time favorites and students at Rollins have only to choose what they want to do.

Education ELEMENTS

Eileen Giarrusso and Elissa Levin cram before their physics class.

In 1995, Rollins ranked third among southern regional universities according to the U.S. News and World Report annual survey. An education is one of the most prioritized ventures taken by students here. Students are offered a plethora of majors along with many academic options. Programs such as study abroad, the Honors Degree program, and scientific community gave many opportunites to enhance the academic achievement of students. While students at Rollins gained an outstanding education and motivation to achieve, they also acquired a background necessary to meet the many challenges they faced in a changing world.

ELEMENTS Mandates

Here at Rollins, students are expected to live up to certain expectations to maintain the order on campus and promote the well being of each student. To do so, administration has provided a wonderful list of rules, which can be found on the last few pages of the R-times. It is the duty of both the residential assistants and campus safety officers to enforce these mandates, providing protection for every student on campus. Students who smoke in their rooms, use fake I.D.'s, or minors who are caught drinking below the age of 21 can be charged with violating a law and will be penalized by all law enforcement agencies.

ENTERTAINMENT ELEMENTS

The Annie Russell Theatre began its 74th season this year with The Mystery of Edwin Drood based on a work by Charles Dickens, which ran October 21-30. This production, directed by Professor Joseph Nassif, took the audience back to England in the late 1800s and recreated the last years of the Victorian era. This musical comedy, which won a Tony on Broadway, was brought to life at the Annie Russell by the acting troupe of Christopher Fitzgerald, Kate Ogden, Jeff Dattilo and many other talented young actors and actresses. Unlike other plays, this one had the audience vote on different aspects of the plot.

The cast of The Mystery of Edwin Drood (L to R): Paul Castiglione, Kim Adams, Bill Klear, Megan Morrison, Ryan Hull, Kirsten Hauser.

Our Town's Kimberly Adams and Wendy Speake in an emotional embrace.

Brandy DeMil, Shannon Barry, Kirsten Hauser, and Karyn Stillwell share a tearful moment during Our Town.

Preparing for another performance of The Mystery of Edwin Drood (front to back): Meredith Inglesby, Shawn St. John, Jeff Datillo.

Ryan Hull as Mr. Nick Cricker a.k.a. Durdles in The Mystery of Edwin Drood.

ELEMENTS Nights

Nightlife is an integral part of a student's life at Rollins. How can anyone forget the weekly Wednesday nights at The Mill with disco tunes and lava lamps? What about Fat Tuesday and the night of the "over eighteen"? Students were also seen going to Pleasure Island, among other places, such as Church Street Station. Thursday nights are still popular at the Fourth Fighter, with 50 cent drafts, but the Seaside Grill has lost it's popularity as well as it's name, now the Village Bistro. Although changes have occured, nightlife is still an important part of the Rollins community tradition.

Jamie Jennings and Amelia Fowle hug each other at a Chi Psi party, while David Martino tries to steal the spotlight.

Linda Sitek and friend enjoy a wintery day in our nation's capitol.

ELEMENTS Trips

Costa Rica is known for it's beautiful sunsets among other things according to the winter term class that studied there.

Rollins students traveled the world over this year. With J-term classes set in such exotic locations as Africa, Costa Rica, Hawaii, and Europe, students were able to learn about the individual culture and heritage of their destinations. J-term was not the only time students left Rollins to venture out into the great unknown. Several organized Spring Break trips also occurred this year. Many students journeyed out on their own to popular sites such as the Bahamas, Puerto Rico, Daytona Beach, and the Florida Keys. Travel is definitely on many people's minds. The only question left is "Where do I go now?"

A J-term class got to experience the beauty of Costa Rica's nature.

The white sand beaches of the Bahamas were one of the most popular spots for Spring Break this year.

Cruises were also a prefered getaway for Spring Breakers.

Rollins students enjoy the great outdoors. They can always be seen on Mills Lawn playing frisbee, soccer, lacrosse, catch, and various other sporting activities. Many times students can be seen sunbathing and studying. The pool is also a popular spot for "studying" different subjects and catching some rays. Others spend time at the Fieldhouse playing basketball, using exercise equipment, or attending aerobics classes. The Wellness Outreach sponsored many of the events held in the Fieldhouse. Participating in leisure sports allows students to become physically fit while having fun.

MEN'S SOCCER

The Men's soccer team continued the sucess they had the previous yearwith such popular lead players as Mike Nelson, Tony Lawlor, Kenny Bonnett, Sam Farmer, and Tim Kehrig. Most home games brought huge, record breaking attendances, and with the apparent euphoria over the 1994 World Cup games that were held in Orlando and other U.S. cities over the summer, the team kept the excitement of "soccermania" alive for the entire Rollins community. Soccer spectators were not shouting "goal" as many heard during the World Cup games, but instead they were shouting "Go Tars"! With the help of coach Keith Buckley, the men will hopefully continue their past successes.

WOMEN'S SOCCER

The women's soccer club brought record breaking numbers of fans to the Sandspur Field. Some believe it's the influence of the World Cup games being hosted here in Orlando, but it has more to do with the sheer talent of the players. The high attendance at the women's soccer games reflected an increasing school spirit here at Rollins. Under the eye of Head Coach Israel Ramos the women had victories against such schools as Flagler. The girls were devoted to improving their game with every new match this year. Next year, Molly O'Connor, Monica Hunsader, Alison Michaux and, Jen McBrair will be missed. However, there is still plenty of talent left for a successful season next year.

WOMEN'S VOLLEYBALL

The Lady Tars had a successful season this year with a 21-15 record. It was the 12th time in 13 seasons that the team has won 20 matches. A newcomer to the team was Head Coach Sandy Carter who led the ladies to victory against such schools as Ferris State, Jacksonville State, and Florida Tech. Junior middle blocker Daniela Brenha was named to the Second Team All-SSC team, while Christine Smilari and Jennifer Maloney established new single season records. Kendall Goodier and Carrie Jetchick were also top players. The only player ending her career for the Tars this year is Senior Elizabeth Folger, a back row specialist.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

The fabulous Lady Tars had a very successful season this year. With returning players such as Dawn Henderson, Jennifer Gossett, Missy Gavin and newcomers Tara Cantrell, Lisl von Steinbergs, and Manoli Garcia, the Lady Tars played one of their most successful seasons ever. With the assistance of coaches Glen Wilkes, Jr. and Eddie Cole the Lady Tars broke into the top twenty women's rankings for the NCAA Division II teams for the first time ever. The ladies were managed by Scott "L.T." Gould who lent the team some extra support on the way. The women's team traveled to many other Floridian schools, such as Barry and Tampa, during the season and always attracted huge crowds at home games.

MEN'S BASKETBALL

The men's basketball team, under the guidance of Tom Klusman, Kyle Frakes, and Chip Morris, began a fresh season with several freshmen newcomers such as David Martino, Matt Certo, and Javone Dolby. The team also had returning strong men Mike Holmes, Daniel Parke, and Greg Sager. The Tars welcomed UCF transfer Ray Carter as they opened the season with several exhibition games. The team challenged tough opponents such as UCF and Florida Southern and also won the annual Tangerine Tournament. Although this year saw the coming of many new talented players, it also marked the departure of senior players Trevis Certo, Greg Sager, and Mike Holmes who were an important part of the Rollins athletic family.

CROSS COUNTRY

The Rollins cross country team once again brought pride and prestige to the school's athletic department. The season though short, was one that introduced many new faces and brought back several returning runners. Newcomers such as Lee West, Michelle Esfahani and Andy De Mil ran alongside veterans Matt Williams, Christa Wrenn, and Heather Garrett brought greater recognition to this developing team sport. Coaches Tom Klusman and Matt Long led the team to participate in various competitions throughout the state. Several members of the team such as Lee West, Matt Williams, and Karl Lewis were recognized by the Sunshine State Conference for their achievements on and off the track.

SWIMMING

The swim team's luck continued this year. Officially a varsity sport next year, the team began continued to compete against such schools as Tampa and UCF. The team which includes such favorites as Bahamian sisters Lori and Jennifer Thompson, Laureline Orsetti, and Pace Halter brought crowds to the Alfond Pool to see them in competition. Among those leaving the team this year include Seniors Ramsey Small and Derek Boorn. The final swimming competition which took place during Family Weekend, did not bring the team top honors, however with further practice and determination, it seems that next year will be even more awesome for this developing sport.

The women's golf team began a new year with a new attitude towards this sport. The team's coach Iris Schneider guided the Lady Tars into new directions this year. Newcomer Shrutti Khanna who hails from New Delhi, India joined the team after winning several Asian championships during the past two years. Others who joined the team included Amy Reynolds, and Lynsey Tucker came aboard as they tried to achieved the success they had last year. Veterans Cherie Hansen, Melissa Lagod, and Jenny Tollette returned to compete against such schools as the University of Georgia and Florida State University for the top honors in the NCAA. The team has what it takes to make them champions.

MEN'S GOLF

The men's golf team tried to repeat the success they had last year by adding new faces and going through extensive practice. The Tars who won third place in last year's NCAA Division II championships, wanted to erase the six strokes that costed them from winning the competition. Head coach Kyle Frakes led the men in preparing for stiff competition against such schools as Columbus College and Embry-Riddle. Many new team members such as Arjun Atwal, Chris Shields, and Christian Demers joined the team this year in what looks like another successful season. The team will go for the top this year and with a little strength and determination the team will shine even brighter next year. Fore!

WOMEN'S CREW

The women's crew team had a successful year,even though the team is quite young. The varsity 8 beat the University of Central Florida in the Metro Cup on March 18th. The novice 4 won the Presidents' Cup in Tampa. "This years novice class is providing a lot of young and positive leadership that is helping the program this year and seems to have a bright future,"says Head Coach Ashley Tarr. The team which includes such rowers as Julia Jerome, Jocelyn Hamilton, and Briana Solomon and several newcomers helped the Varsity win the prestigious "Head of the Chattahoochee" competition this fall. With a lot of practice and a lot of maturity for this developing sport, the women are determined to row for the gold.

MEN'S CREW

The men's crew had yet another banner year. The team had strong veteran leadership from Seana Staley, coxan, and Shawn Pistor, captain. "Their leadership has helped guide this years young team in the right direction," David Neal, Head Coach. He went on the say, " The young team this year rose to the occasion as seen in the Varsity 8 (which has three freshman and three sophomores)." The Novice 4 won the Presidents' Cup in Tampa and the Varsity 8 won at the Augusta Invitational in Augusta, Georgia. The team also won the the Bradley Cup located on Lake Maitiland for the third straight year. The team looks forward to another successful season next year.

SAILING

The varsity sailing team saw the 1994-1995 season as one of its best ever. Competing in several regattas throughout the country, the team strived to achieved top honors. Head Coach Rich Morris along with team captain Kiomie Johansen led the team during the year in preparing them for the tough competitions that lay ahead. Julie Godwin, Mike March, and Priscilla Cummins also supplied the team extra support that it needed to succeed. The team whom practices on Lake Virginia almost every afternoon has seen that practice helps them acheived top honors at several competitions. The placid waters of Lake Virginia will be disturbed as the team prepares to sail into a bright future.

CHEMISTRY

The chemistry department began a program this summer that involved working on research projects being conducted by chemistry Professors Erich Blossey and Pedro Bernal. The department hopes to continue the program and expand it. The Professors hope to have chemistry majors participate in the program each summer and also in the winter term research class each year. This would facilitate research for their Senior research project needed to graduate in the major. The summer program lasts ten weeks in which participating students must make at least two presentations outlining their research progress during pizza luncheons. All of the students that participated in the program this year agreed that chemistry is much more fun and exciting in the lab than in the classroom.

BIOLOGY

n important tool in teaching is interjecting ppropriate audio-visual aids into classes. rofessor Edward Sheer prepares a movie r his Geosphere class.

The biology department focuses on a broadly based and balanced program incorporating field, laboratory, and classroom experience. With classes starting with general biology and progressing into the realms of genetics and molecular biology, the department is increasingly offering a wider variety of lower and upper level courses. The biology department sponsored a winter term abroad course to Hawaii this January. It's purpose: to study and experiment with local coral reefs surrounding the Big Island of Hawaii. Ongoing reseach in biological sciences is always occurring throughout the department. Whether it be by the undergraduate students, or by the faculty, the biology department is on the cutting edge of scientific research.

The physics department has been striving to excel in conducting individual research, as well as teaching classes. The department offers courses in the evolution of the stars and solar system, lasers, optics, electro-magnetic theory, quantum physics, and quantum mechanics. There are research opportunities in such areas as miocroelectronics and microcomputers, holography, and computational physics. Professor Donald Griffin coordinates a program that allows physics students to spend a fall semester researching nuclear fusion at Oak Ridge National Labortories in Tennessee. Another program which is unique to the physics department is the 3-2 Pre-Engineering Program. Students attend Rollins for three years and then transfer to an engineering school to complete a B.S. in engineering. Dr. Greg Alman ultilizes the newly renovated laser lab in research on quantum optics and laser physics. This department allows students a great amount of opportunites for future development.

Caught between classes, Professor Dona Griffin finds time to catch up on some lor needed computer work.

The mathematical sciences department offers students a broad foundation in theoretical and applied mathematics. Professors in this department are all active at work on ventures such as sabbatical, individual research, and a new Quantative Learning Project. While on sabatical during Fall semester, Dr. Anderson studied graph theory in Ottowa, Canada. Working with mathematician Bruce Richter, they ventured to graph the linkage of networks. Gloria Childs, while on sabatical during Spring semester, worked on the Quantative Learning Project integrating disciplines such as Mathematics and Physics. A new class added to the Mathematics curriculum entitled Mathematical Modeling emphasized the creation of mathematical models to represent real-world situations. Along with the introduction of his new class, Dr. Vitray had two essays published in the "American Mathematical Society." The department gives students an in-depth understanding of mathematics allowing for graduate studies and related fields.

ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES

The environmental studies department, though limited in faculty, is very strong. Divided into three tracks: science, culture, and policy, the department provides the opportunity for a well-rounded approach to understanding and facing environmental problems. Professor Barry Allen headed a winter term course in Costa Rica, and has recently teamed up with other professors from the Colleges of the South to participate in a semester long study abroad program fro environmental studies in Costa Rica starting in the spring of 1996. Senior environmental sudies majors have spent time researching and surveying options for transforming old, abandoned railroads into productive walking trails as part of the statewide Rails to Trails project. The department is also currently assisting a planning firm in the development of a city-wide bike path.

Professor Charles Rock has been with the economics department since 1984. He teaches courses including labor economics, comparative economics, the history of economic thought, and economic democracy. Rock is currently trying to develop a new course dealing with non-profit economics. For the last three and a half years Professor Rock has been working on a project dealing with Bulgaria. This project has been funded by The Academy of Sciences of Bulgaria, Rollins College, and The National Science Foundation. Rock has researched areas including democratic business, financial institutions, and Eastern Europe (especially Bulgaria). He will run the Budapest Study Abroad Program for the Fall of 1995. On top of these accomplishments, Professor Rock has written eight commissioned papers in the past school year.

His most recent book, The Politics of Economic Adjustment, was published in 1989. He is currently writing a book on Walt Disney World and Orlando. In addition to his many publications, Professor Foglesong is active in his profession and the community. He is the founding chairman of County Watch, a bipartisan group promoting open and accountable government in Orange County. He is an editorial board member of the Journal of Planning Education & Research and a referee for Urban Affairs Quarterly. Foglesong is the past president of the Florida Political Science Organization, a former member of the Maitland Planning and Zoning Commission, and a member of the 1988 Orange County Redistricting Advisory Committee. To top his accomplishments, Dr. Foglesong is a regular panelist on "Opinion Street", a public affairs program on WFME-TV channel 24.

This year Professor Butler has taught courses about Latin America including Women in Latin American History and History of Latin America I and II. Butler has received an Organization of American States Fellowship and a National Endowment for the Humanities Fellowship. She has also reviewed several books this year. Professor Butler wrote a book this year about Jamaica and Barbados entitled The Economics of Emancipation. The book shows the history of the planters and the business elite during the She will attend the Latin American Studies Association conference at the beginning of the 1995-96 school year. # ANTHROPOLOGY

The Anthropology department allows students to learn more about cultures and past civilizations. Many students who are enrolled in this program learn about many of the world's cultures, linguistics, and about the primary aspects of archaeology. Courses such as "Human Evolution" and "Foundations of Archaeology," allows department majors to learn all about the earliest human primates and how to rediscover the past by using archaeological methods. Recently, Professor Marilyn Stewart organized an excavation at the Orange County Historical Museum for her "Foundations of Archaeology" class. This allowed her students to get first hand field experience in how to conduct an archaelogical survey. Anthropology is "all about human behavior".

The Latin American and Caribbean Affairs department is one of the most prestigious programs dealing with Latin America in the southeastern United States.The department which deals with Latin American and Caribbean history, politics, society,arts, and resources has attracted many students who want to enrich themselves with knowledge concerning this important region. As Latin America becomes more important politically, economically, and environmentally , the LACA department prepares students for careers involving this part of our hemisphere. LACA has also sponsored its annual spring semester at the University of the Yucatan in Merida, Mexico. For the past decade, this program along with others in Jamaica, Brazil, Guatemala, Honduras and Belize has always attracted many students each year.

Theater has been an important part of the school's community ever since its founding. The theater department has allowed future actors and actresses to improve their thespian skills and to prepare them for the fascinating field of professional acting in their futures. With annual productions directed by several professors within the department, the department is always in action. Several productions such as "The Mystery of Edwin Drood," and "Our Town," were brought to life by the department. The department which produces these plays for the entire Rollins community presents each play as authentic as possible, from costumes to stage scenery. With such famous alumni as Anthony Perkins, Buddy Ebsen, and Dana Ivey the theater department strives to produce the best in every field of the theater.

Professor Edmond LeRoy looks over the work of a dilligent music student after a voice class.

The Music department allows students who are musically inclined to broaden their instrumental and vocal talents even more. The department has held many events on campus from band recitals, to jazz ensembles. One such event, the annual Bach Festival brought emerging musical artists to introduce the public to their forms of music. Many music majors have become involved in chapel choirs and the Rollins camerata. Others have also formed their own bands. During winter term, Professor Edmund LeRoy and a group of music loving students traveled to the great music cities of Europe to listen to various national orchestras play. These cities which included Berlin, Prague, and Vienna brought the students to the roots of classical music.The students who traveled to each of these cities via train also explored the new musical awareness that is happening in former communist nations such as Eastern Germany and the Czech Republic. This trip was definately a wonderful experience for all. As for everyday life , the classrooms and halls of Keene Hall are alive with "The sound of music".

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

Dr. Decker has found a way to start children early on to develop foreign languages. Each Saturday morning on her free time Dr. Decker holds the "Saturday German School." The class teaches about eighteen children between the ages of eight and fifteen. It runs from nine to eleven o'clock, during which time Dr. Decker uses television shows, computer programs, and crafts to immerse the students in the language through different means. She also interacts with the students in basic everyday language and skills and she encourages them to do the same. The children are eager to answer questions and demonstrate what they have learned. There are two Rollins students that help out and Dr. Decker adds, "It's my hope to get more Rollins students involved because this presents them an opportunity to use German outside of class."

From world literature to personal writing, the department strives to teach how to use and enjoy English in all of its splendor. From the classes of Orlando Hall, English majors and other students have learned how to interpret the language we use in everyday life. In addition of the services provided by the Writing Center and the Academic Resource Center, many students have come to writing consultants in revising their papers. Popular professors such as Twila Papay, Alan Nordstrom and Thaddeus Seymour have many great memories for many, and for others it has made them better writers and readers.

She has gained recognition in Art Education magazine in the July 1994 edition. The museum is filled with articles from all over the world. She says that, "We started this because we have a real diverse community and so students will learn more about each other's culture. Branen's "diverse community" includes students from as far away as Poland, India, Haiti, Iran, Central and South America. She has gotten help from some of her colleagues here at Rollins. She notes that among others, Dr. McAller has found items at a garage sale in Mexico, and some wooden shoes. She notes that these items have given the children a better idea of what to bring in for display.. She says,"The kids keep bringing in new things so the museum is growing constantly." The whole museum is going on CD Rom to make it more interactive within the classroom. Dr. Pequeno from the anthropology department donated chac-mool from Merida, Mexico and Dr. Cotanche gave petosky stone from the lakes in Michigan, the only place that stone is found. "The museum came together so easily," she adds, "it was almost astounding. Every one seemed to want to help in some way."

The painting "Portrait of Mary St. John Hutchinson," was one of the pieces of artwork that the Cornell Fine Arts Museum showed during the "Bloomsbury Circle" exhibit's run in the spring.

The art department has produced many great artists from the classes at the Cornell Fine Arts Museum. While the department only offers two fields of study , studio art and art history, it is still a very extensive major. During J-Term this year, Professor Robert Lemon led a study abroad trip to Italy for several interested art students. The class traveled to such great art cities as Venice, Florence, and Rome saw the great works that were produced during the Italian Renaissance. Such masterpieces such as the Sistine Chapel and the works by Leonardo da Vinci and Michelangelo were a sample of what they viewed. Another professor, Tanya Softic, had an exhibition of her personal artwork shown at the Cornell Fine Arts Museum. Her work which was inspired by the war ravaging her homeland of Bosnia-Herzegovina was one of the most applauded ever held at the Cornell. The art department also played host to an exhibition of the artwork of Edvard Munch, Norway's greatest artist, who is famous for his painting "The Scream". Art is just not an hobby, its life.

PHILOSOPHY/RELIGION

The Philosophy/ Religion department has many attracted many students to the classes it offers each year. From "Introduction to Philosophy," to "Far East Religions," the department has provided majors interesting classes which are fun and refreshing. In January, Professor Yudit Greenberg and a group of students went on a study abroad trip to Israel, to explore that country's religious shrines and to witness the change the country has gone through recently. Though recent terroist bombings were a big fear, the students felt at ease when visiting cities such as Jerusalem, Tel Aviv, and the West Bank. The trip prove to be enlightning for all, and there are future plans to have another trip in the near future. Thought is not an option, it is a necessity in everday life, and the department wants to make that clear in its purpose.

Margaret McLaren, Trevor Clendenin, Yudit Greenberg are just a few of the professors in the department.

Teamwork is something RAP wants to incorporate in every student.

The Rollins Advantage Program, otherwise known as RAP, is new to Rollins College this year. Headed by Leslie Miller and assisted by Raymond Rogers, RAP takes freshmen and sophomores under its wing and prepares them with the necessary skills for graduate school and the competitive market beyond the realm of campus life. Students are exposed to topics through group activites that range from Rollins very own professors, to pesentationns by Disney University. Included tin the line-up of RAP favorites were Phillip Crosby, owner of Career IV, who spoke on the importance otuality in work, Carol Saunders, of The Orlando Sentinel, who spoke on diversity, and CEL, a group of presenters made up of UCF students, who spoke on issues related to leadership. Originally, RAP had been set up as a four year program, however, with the success rate, it seem as though students will be able to earn their certificate within two years.

Our Friendship

We have formed
a friendship
that has become invaluable to me
We discuss our goals
and plan our future
We express our fears and talk about our dreams...

We can be very serious or we can just have fun
We understand each other's lives and try to encourage each other in all that we do
We have formed
a friendship
that makes our lives
so much nicer

-Susan Polis Schutz

Video Projects

Video projects is one of the many branches of the Publications Broadcast Union. It's purpose is to enhance the student knowledge and experience in video production. Members David Axdahl and Chris Haak have provided the talented and creative support that Video Projects is known for. With their "A Roll" Editing system, Amiga 4000 with video toaster, and cameras, they have provided a variety of videos ranging from school to personal projects, learning "hands on" as they go.

David Axdahl supervises one of the many projects that Video Projects is responsible in maintaining.

Sandspur

The staff of the Sandspur has always maintained in informing and alerting students of events and stories that affect the entire Rollins community. Being the oldest college newspaper in Florida, the Sandspur has been an important part of the school. Current editor-in-chief, Chris Smith along with Melissa Person, Matt Scmidt, and Brandon Powell, have the task of collecting the most important news stories and getting them into print each week. This year the Sandspur covered such important news stories such as the Okinawa statue debate and the woes of SGA, always providing students with the most information. The Sandspur is the voice of Rollins!

All Campus Events

All Campus Events (A.C.E.) is an organization that organizes various special events for the Rollins community. The organization which is led by Dan Ba Mulligan, has been responsible in hiring comedians for the Down Under, getting musical guests to play on campus, and for staging concerts on the Sandspur field. This year ACE had a successful year in bringing student entertainment to the student body. The Black Creek Concert along with the special Spyro Gyra concert drew huge numbers of students to the Sandspur field for evening entertainment. ACE also assisted the World Hunger Committee in staging the popular World Hunger Concert that raised money for Oxfam. The future for A.C.E. looks more positive than ever as Dan Ba and his determined staff work to keep the student body enteratained.

Beginnings '95

The Beginnings '95 Committee is a group of seniors responsible for raising money for their class to present Rollins with a parting gift to be used by the entire college for several years. This year's project is renovation of the Alumni House patio. As ambassadors between the college, alumni, and donors, Committee members represented students at events such as the Volunteer Leadership Conference in September, the annual Donor dinner in October, and Reunion Weekend in March. Beginnings is indeed a new start for maintaining good alumni-college relations now and in the future.

The Beginnings '95 committe consists of Tara Stadelmann, Jessica Zimmerman, Mikell Thaxton, Cindy Karlovec and Christi Nuenschwander.

Intervarsity Christian

Intervarsity Christian is an organization devoted to bringing spiritual renewal to the entire campus. The group which meets weekly, participate in singing Christian hymns, group prayers, and promoting the good news about God. Intervarsity Christian welcomes any students who wish to enrich their relationship with God.

The members of the Ballroom Club dance in a mass danceathon.

This year the Ballroom Club has endured tremendous changes and growth. The product of all this is awesome! we know have a dedicated team that is learning formation work, social dancing, and a lot about college competition. We represented Rollins College well in the recent competition at Valencia's West Campus on March 31, placing in the top three all of the time. We have exciting plans for the future with our new coach Elaine Hansen. She has opened our eyes to the world of college dancing and we are now ready to face the challenges and opportunities that lie ahead. Come join us for the fun and dancing!

Voices for Women

Voices for Women's "Take Back the Night" was a major triumph for women's rights. Pictured here are (L to R): Teresa Greenlees, Sophia Zetterlund, Orlando Mayor Glenda Hood '74, Laura Hall, Sabrina Anico, Leigh Carter, Mary Fournier, and Shellie Olszewski.

The importance of woman's issues in today's world is something that Voices for Women tries to alert the campus about. The group's determination to bring awareness to critical topics dealing with women such as abortion, sexual assualt, and the role of women in politics. This year under the leadership of Sophia Zetterlund and Melissa Arnold, the organization held a successful "Take Back the Night" in which Orlando Mayor Glenda Hood was the guest speaker. The candlelight ceremony that followed after and the voices of people who spoke about their personal experiences with the abuse of women was indeed a major triumph for the group and women altogether.

Pinehurst

inehurst Cottage is the home of the group.

The residents of Pinehurst show the flip side of their clean-cut image.

Pinehurst Cottage is the home to a diverse community of students.

As both a campus-wide special interest group and as a residential community, Pinehurst seeks to break down social, cultural, and political barriers and bring about an understanding of diverse points of view. Through programming and social activities, Pinehurst strives to promote awareness of important issues facing the entire campus and the world at large. The members of Pinehurst have participated in various events throughout the year such as Halloween Howl and reunion weekend. Pinehurst is not only a community of students, it's a family.

Rotaract

Amber Manderson participates in one of Rotaract's many community projects.

Rotarian Mike Marchetti & Jesse Fortner do they share of work to improve the community.

Rotaract is an organization affiliated with Rotary International. It offers young people, ages 18 to 30, unique opportunities for community and international service as well as travel, scholarship, leadership experiences, and professional development. The Rotaract Club undertakes projects that are designed to improve the lives of disadvantaged children, isolated senior citizens, and the poor at home or abroad. This year, the Club's first year at Rollins, The Rotaract Club and Rollins College organized a Thanksgiving food drive for the children of Serenity House pediatrics A.I.D.S. foundation. We hope that the Rotaract Club will be even more successful next year as we work to improve our world one project at a time.

SGA Senator Julie Sauers takes a break after another grueling SGA meeting.

The 1994-1995 Student Government Association began with alot of excitement and enthuasism. President Mike Porco and Vice President Creighton Knight were able to bring positive leadership as well as new reforms in current student-administration relations. With bills that affected everyone, from Marriott to the selection of SGA officials, SGA was on top of things. The debates that were held prior the presidential & vice presidential elections attracted many students who were interested in what the candidates had to say. Emerging victorious from the elections, newly elected President Creighton Knight and Vice President Mark Shanoff were chosen as the leaders for the new year. With the goal of improving life for all students, SGA will pave the way for the future.

Newly elected SGA President Creighton Knight and Vice President Mark Shanoff mark a new beginning by cutting a cake in their honor at their post inaguaration party.

MSU sponsored trips to local mosques in the metropolitan area such as this one above.

Members of MSU assembled outside of a mosque for a traditional Islamic service.

The Muslim Student Union is an organization determined to inform the entire Rollins campus about the Islamic religion. This year they increased the awareness of the basic principles of Islam and to clear misconceptions that crept in due to existing political issues and the general opinions of mass media by sponsoring events for Diversity Week. By having a luncheon in front of the Mitchell Plaza in the fall and joining CAC in the various Diversity Week programs, MSU hopes to get its goal of gaining greater awareness for Islam to the entire campus.

Black Student Union

Black Student Union was founded in the 1960's during a period of racial unrest in the United States. It's purpose on Rollins College campus was to educate people on the culture, becoming actively involved in the political atmosphere and providing a sociial and emotional support for people of color on the Rollins College campus. Today, the Black Student Union provides social support for all students who are interested in the culture and the ancestry of people of African descent from all over the globe. In celebration of the past enrolled students and alumni of Rollins spent an evening sharing their experiences. Laughter, tears, words of support and encouragement resounded in the Galloway Room as BSU celebrated another Black History Month.

Rollins Outdoor

Don't forget the meeting starts at 8:01, not 8:00!

The Rollins Outdoor Club (R.O.C.) is a residential organization that promotes activities involving the great outdoors. Its members have done almost everything possible that ranges from trips to Costa Rica and North Carolina to a survival weekend which students had to fend for themselves with whatever they found in the wild. The members of R.O.C. have also supported such causes as the World Hunger Committee by having a camp out on Mills Lawn and participating in the infamous R.O.C./Pinehurst wars, which they won. R.O.C. is open to everyone who has a love for nature and outdoor activities.

I.S.O.

Jamie Rose celebrates his love of ISO in his own special way.

The International Student Organization (I.S.O.) is an organization for students who are interested in international issues. ISO sponsors and promotes various cultural programs such as Guy Fawkes Day and social activities throughout the year. ISO encourages all Rollins students to join and get involved. It might be a small world, however ISO wants to promote the cultural and political awareness of every nation in the world on campus. ISO President Jennifer Thompson has organized various social events throughout the year such as barbecues and discussions that has made the group one of the most popular at Rollins. ISO is on the go!

Cultural Action Committee

Valenta Encarnacion does the "Valenta Dance" at one of the many CAC group events this year. DO THE VALENTA!

The Cultural Action Committee (CAC) is an organization that unites and supervises all minority groups at Rollins. The organization sponsors many events throughout the year, the most important being Diversity Week, which takes place in the fall. With the introduction of two new groups, the Muslim Student Union and the Caribbean Student Association and the growing importance for cultural awareness, CAC has indeed become a force on campus. Chairs Dwight Williams and Margieric Rivera have made CAC's role more intensified than ever before, and the organization have plans in the future for further events.

More than 5,000 people died in a violent earthquake that rumbled through Kobe, Japan January 17, 1995. Estimates of the damage ranged from $100 billion to $130 billion, and some 270,000 people were forced to live in refugee shelters. It was called the trial of the century. The trial of O.J. Simpson. He was accused of brutally murdering his ex-wife, Nicole Brown Simpson, and her friend, Ronald Goldman. There was so much interest in the case that even the preliminary hearing was televised nationally. Simpson put together an expensive "dream team" of lawyers, lead by Robert Shapiro. Newt Gingrich, a conservative congressman from Georgia, was elected as the Speaker of the House of Representatives. As the leader of the new Republican-controlled Congress, Gingrich set forth his "Contract With America" that included welfare reform, middle-class tax cuts, Congressional term limits and legal reform. Haiti is an island of poverty and discontent. President Jean-Bertrand Aristide was elected president in late 1990. But less than a year later he was arrested by the military and expelled from the country. Coup leader Lt. Gen. Raoul Cedras assumed presidential powers and declared the army to be in charge. A negotiating team, lead by former President Jimmy Carter, struck a deal with Gen. Cedras that included U.S. troops to occupy the island and Mr. Aristide was returned to power. (cont. on next page)

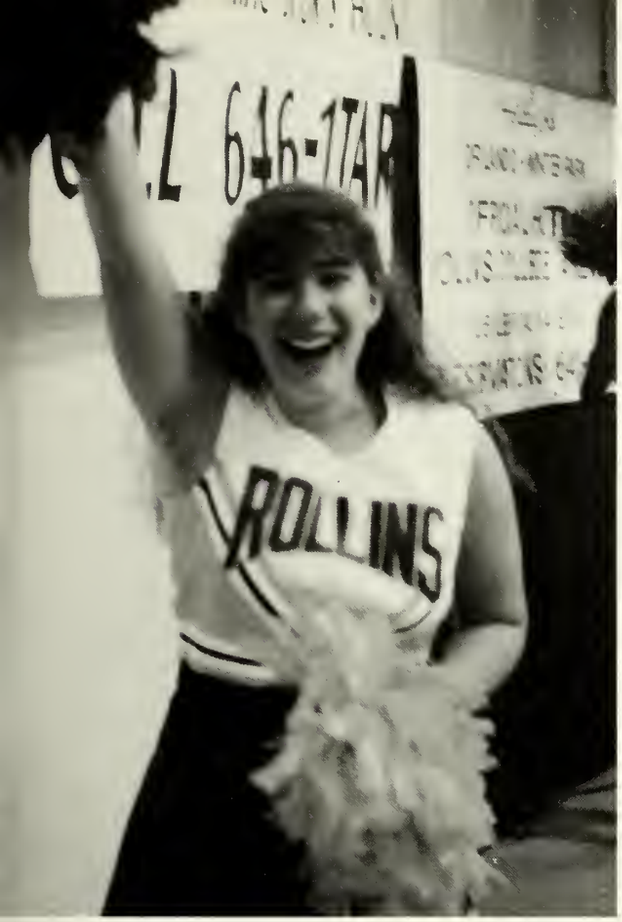
Ernst Mayr, a world renowed biologist and philospoher from Harvard University, planted a stone in our Walk of Fame in April. After hearing about the legendary rock festival from their parents for years, a generation seized the opportunity the create their own Woodstock. And Woodstock '94 was born. Several hundred thousands people arrived at Saugerties, N.Y. for Woodstock '94. From folk music to heavy metal, the weekend concert was filled with music almost 24-hours a day. Although a referendum for independence from Yugoslavia was passed in 1992, war and desperation continued to be part of life in Bosnia-Herzegovina. Serbs massacred thousands of Bosians, mostly civilians. But as 1994 drew to a close, the fighting continued and negotiations on a peace plan made slow progress. One critic called their music "pseudo grunge", but Stone Temple Pilots didn't let that bother them. Kim Oram-Smith, James Wiberg and Liz Lee work on setting goals for the year at the SGA retreat in the fall.

Ann-Marie Puig and Jennifer Thompson party it up at Club Bahamas.



Show your Rollins spirit!

After her 14 hour stay at the 33rd St. Jail, Jen Evans shows off her papers with friends and her bail bondsman.

Rebecca Pressman, Ashley Stearns, J.R. Sablosky, Lisa Goodman, Nathaniel Eberly, and Jen Crider become delirious.

The Best of The Rest

Several students take a break from the work they did during the Service Learning program that took place in Guatemala during J-Term.

"Look at the guy in those Daisy Dukes!" Jen Evans unveils Dustin Taps' new look.

Kiet Tran, Todd Benderson, Brian Silber, and Erin McCormack enjoy an evening at a Kobe Steakhouse.

Was this picture paid for with Tomokan funds? Residential Assisant, Kristen Guarisco laying outside of her room.

Fox Day

Rita Bornstein gathers with several students at her office on Fox Day morning.

Kim Hanisak, Amada Riemer, and Yolaine Cotel pose with the Fox on Mills Lawn.

Whether rain or shine, Fox Day has always brought a time for students to be carefree and frivolous. On April 24, the bells of the Knowles Chapel signified that the Fox had been sighted on Mills Lawn. As usual many students headed off to Cocoa and New Smyrna Beaches to enjoy what was supposed to be a day of sunshine and warmth, instead finding that rainstorms had dampened this Rollins tradition. Many other students headed off to Disney World or even stayed on campus to enjoy the picnic held on Mills Lawn (and later at Beans due to more showers). After the Fox had left, life returned to normal, as students got ready for the final month of classes before the summer. Fox Day 1995 is a day to remember.

April 24, 1995

Lisa Goodman, Ashley Stearns, Jen Evans, Melissa Dent, and Kim Stowers spent their Fox Day at the beach. "And be aware that Jen did not get arrested this Fox Day".

"Notice the Umbrella".

Cocoa Beach gave students a great atmosphere to relax in on April 24.

SENIOR WEEK

Tuesday: The Bar Crawl
Wednesday: The Clubhouse Grill
Thursday: Howl at the Moon
Friday: Langford Semi-Formal (Spatz)
Saturday: Harper's Tavern

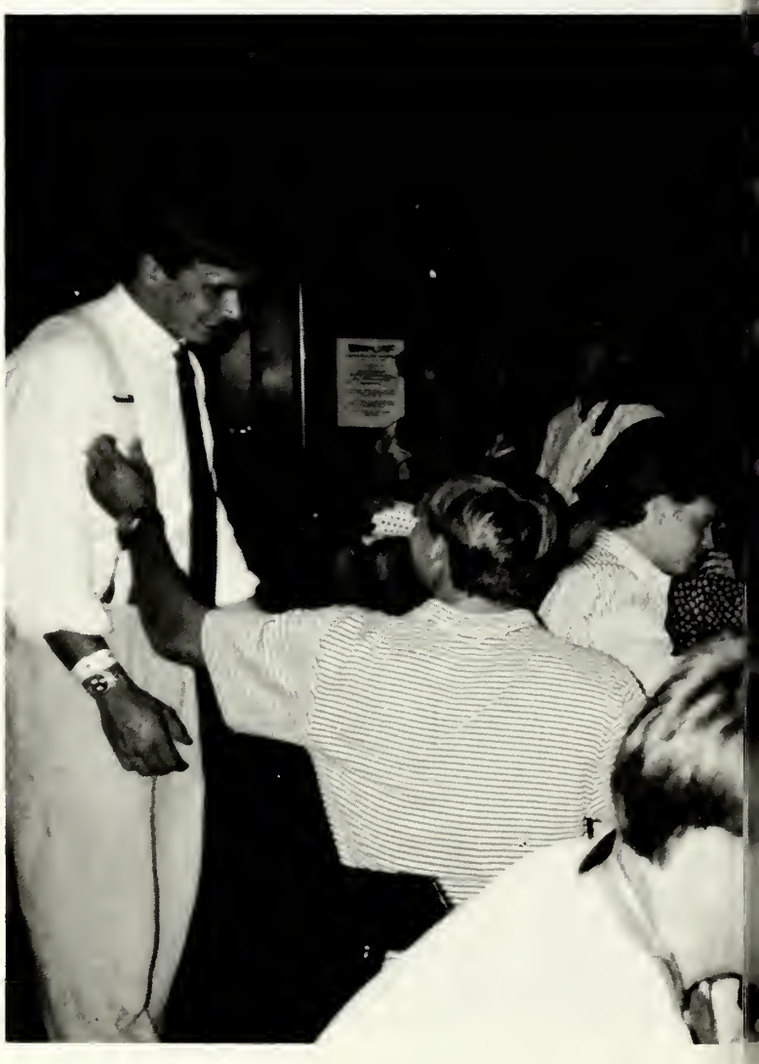
Chi-O's Katie Rasmussen and Suzanne Coelingh party it up at Harpers.

As you can see, Hapers was the last stop on the bar crawl.



Seniors and friends enjoy the Langford Semi-formal.

Karen Peed and Alice Anne Hardee '94 spend one of the last nights at Harpers.

GRADUATION

Commencement Speaker: Thomas Keneally

Honorary Degrees: Samuel B. Lawrence, Elizabeth Plater-Zyberk, Andres M. Duany

Derek Boorn and Ramsey Small are full of glee after graduation ceremonies.

Christopher Fitzgerald celebrates the end of four great years at Rollins with his nephew.

The Stegmiller Family. One down and one to go.

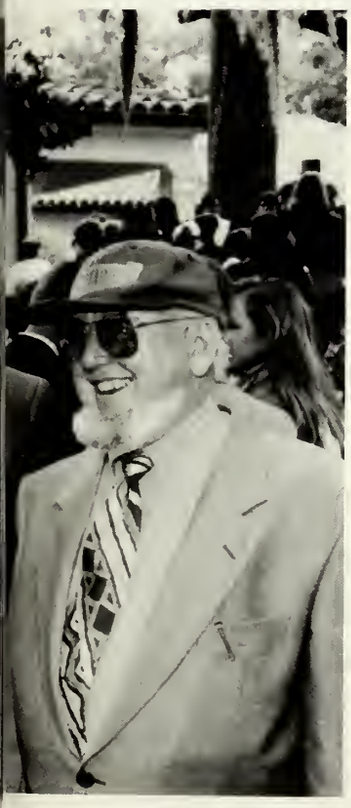
The graduates are confused on where to look and their future.

Jay Rutzler, a parent, and John Nesbit are thrilled it is finally over.

Brooke Loope , the winner of the Snydey Sullivan medallion and her family from Hawaii.

Graduate, Diego Wasmosy and his family straight from Paraguay.

Shelley Queeley and Luciana Raad. "The future is so bright, I got to wear shades."



Dr. Rita Bornstein, Harlan Bloland, and Thomas Keneally enjoy the reception at the Cornell Art Museum Patio.

Nora Bigenheimer, Mary Fournier,Melissa Franklin, and Beth Janke listen on as Rita speaks.

My year first started off in D.C. Where I met some wonderful people, Irgrid, Doug, Evan, Angel, Bill, Francis, Dave, Brad and Holly. We almost hit all 500 bars in only 4 months.

1995 began with a bang and J-Term was in full force, even though Evans decided to take it off. Sensay, even though I was gone for a semester, we definitely made up for lost time. As I have said before, you are by far my wackiest and wildest friend. Long live Virgin Flight 4! Also, the late night phone calls! Thank you for always being a wonderful friend and keeping me up to date with Rollins gossip and Jen's arrests. Come back to the States soon, England is too cold. January was yet another blur and as real life nears, I will miss J-Term the most. What more can you ask for out of life, one class for one month! Sad but true, as we entered Fats a pitcher of Icehouse was waiting for us. To my drinking buddy and best guy friend: "Hey Fran want to do a shot? I will do Jeger and you do Goldschlager." I am so glad I came to know you better this year because we did not talk about two taboo subjects! My, you sure have grown up since our freshman year. Thank you for all the wonderful pictures you took, the book would not have survived without you. Also, the video camera was an added plus during J-Term. Spring term would not have been the same without Spring Break in The Bahamas. Jen and Jennifer: you definitely made my last vacation. Maloney, you are the most open minded and tactful individual! Remember the pact? It was broken in one night, well almost. Nassau also would not have been the same without Brian, Luis and Todd, and Tony. Here are some saying and events from that wild island: "British Colonial is nice." Billy Boy Cheese Mon, "How many dogs did you hit?" The Chinese Whitemon, Absolut, "I think we are alone now"-Tiffany. "Jen and Luis are having sex"-Dusty. "Any guy that wears a Speedo is a . . ."-Maloney. Billabong's and the tequila shots. "Hey, Crabby Boy, how's that toe?" "Naughty girls need love bomp... bomp...bomp...bomp too!"-

Samantha Fox. Coo Bue Koo-aid in Schoo! Bumping into the Connecticut College boy three times. "What is this, a third world world country?"

TheSandbox. Madonna songs. Goombay. The wretched egg smell. Jack Daniels, Waterloo, Hitch-hiking with Canadian boys. Waking up on a beach at sunrise. Hammerheads. And finally The Casuarinas of Cable Beach.

Crabby girls, I am the last one to commence, thanks for always reminding me that I don't have a job. Nury, thanks for always making an effort to come to Jolly Rolly from the Miami choas. Chrissy, you are a true friend. Thank you for always being there for me during my mental breakdowns and when I was homeless. Hey, remember buckets? I love the two of you!!

And to Luis, for always having time to gossip and hang out in PBU on the weekends! Our book is best that Rollins has ever seen! It could not have happen without you!

Finally, Mom and Dad: words can not say enough for all you have done for me. Thank you for always encouraging me to strive for the best. I love you so much!! May retirement treat you well.

Hugh Ferguson McKean '30
1908 - 1995

President of Rollins College
1952 - 1969

Hugh McKean was a man of regal bearing. He savored a lifelong passion for the arts, amassing the world's largest collection of Tiffany art. He was devoted to education, serving as president and chancellor of his alma mater from 1951 to 1973. His humor was subtle, his resolve legendary, and his ability to remain just a notch above the fray unparalleled.

"The future always guards its secrets carefully. But since I am convinced the younger generation are stirring with romanticism, I will attempt to predict some of the developments that lie ahead . . .

a sweeping change in education with more emphasis on helping students find the best in life and less on assimilating knowledge and recalling it - computer like - on command. Colleges will help students understand themselves and show them how to discover and use all the power and resources of their own minds. There will be a great emphasis on values, ethics and maintaining sound academic standards. Education will be recognized more and more as a powerful answer to crime, narcotics and other forms of human misery.

Colleges which are indifferent to what students want to do with their lives will not prosper. Those which continue only to dispense a standardized package of knowledge will fade away."

-Hugh F. McKean, Let's Give the Students What They Want, 1973

The end of the year brought many changes to the Rollins Walk of Fame, as new stones were inducted. World renowned biologist and philospher, Ernst Mayr, who tecahes at Harvard, became the newest person to join the Walk. Along with graduation coming up, many seniors of the class of '95 were remembered forever as their bricks were added into the Horseshoe. Paying their farewell to Rollins is only the beginning as they begin their new lives as real adults.

The end of the school year in May brought many changes and events that affected many at Rollins. Hugh McKean passed away on May 6, at Winter Park home. Fox Day finally came on April 24, on a not too pleasant morning.

Pravda was the word on April 22, as a radical John Doe attacked the actions of the Dean of Students. Voices for Women welcomed Orlando Mayor Glenda Hood as their guest speaker during their annual Take Back the Night event. The prospects of introducing a traditionally African-American fraternity and sorority in the upcoming year has taken light. Porcogate came to an end, and the election of a new SGA President and Vice-President finally came. As dawn sets on this beautiful Floridian college, life becomes slower paced as many think about the future and their memories of Rollins.
